

Scenario 3:

Your Rights in a Car

If you are the driver, you must give the police officer your name and address. Also, you must show the police officer your driver's licence, car registration, and insurance.

A passenger in a car does not need to give their name and address if the car is stopped for a driving matter, unless the passenger is involved in a seatbelt violation.

If drugs are involved or there is evidence any other crime has been committed, a passenger in a car must give their name and address as he/she may be a witness to, or suspect in a crime.
